

Music to Be Cool

A Concert Featuring the Music of Francis Poulenc Performed by

Nathan Arch, Piano
Eric Flyte, Tenor
Greg Shook, Oboe

7 p.m. Tuesday, July 20
Trinity Lutheran Church
15 Randolph Avenue, Hagerstown

Admission is free.
A free-will offering will be appreciated.

Pianist Nathan Arch is pursuing the Doctor of Musical Arts degree in Collaborative Piano at Arizona State University, where he received the Master of Music degree.

Nathan is an active church musician, having served at churches in Arizona and the Washington, D.C., area.

He recently appeared at the Saarburg International Music Festival (Germany) and the Vianden International Music Festival (Luxembourg) as guest artist and scheduling coordinator in charge of the daily schedules, room assignments, and repertoire selection.

He recently returned for the second time as guest artist at Rocky Ridge Music Center in Estes Park, Colorado.

Nathan's research interests are Russian music of the late 19th and 20th centuries. His doctoral research will focus on the early chamber music of Alexander Borodin.